

Political Science

Program student learning outcomes are assessed individually in specific coursework (course student learning outcomes) from the student's course plan, and an exit assessment tool based on the minor program outcomes and linked to the courses taken for the minor will be given prior to the graduation clearance process.